FIRST DEGREE MURDER VERDICT

Leonidas Gilbert, Slayer of Former Hotel Gettysburg Proprietor, is Found Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

After deliberating more than four hours the jury Thursday night convicted of first degree murder Leonidas W. Gilbert, charged with the killing of Daniel K. Miller, former proprietor of the Hotel Gettysburg. Counsel for the defendant was given ten days in which to file reasons for a new trial.

The verdict was taken at the conclusion of a number of divorce cases, and after the greater part of the afternoon crowd of spectators had left the Dauphin County court room. Gilbert occupied the same seat as he did throughout the trial. He never winced while the verdict was taken. Several times he spoke to his counsel, while the vote was being polled, although he did not show the slightest signs of nervousness. He appeared in good spirits, the expression on his face denoting that he expected a verdict other than that of first degree.

Gilbert will not be sentenced until after judgment is passed on the reasons that will be filed by his counsel for a new trial.

All of the morning session was taken up in the addresses to the jury by counsel for the defendant and the District Attorney, and the charge by the Court.

Judge McCarrell gave a charge, satisfactory to both defendant and Commonwealth. When court opened at 9:30 o'clock W. Justin Carter at once began his address to the jury in behalf of the defense. That Gilbert was "dead drunk" was the chord upon which Mr. Carter based his speech.

"There was a cloud on his brain and his reason was dethroned because of intoxication," said Mr. Carter. "Now he is on trial for murder and he realizes his awful peril." He dwelt on the apparent lack of motive.

An hour later District Attorney Weiss began. He said that though insanity is an absolute excuse for crime, intoxication is no defense. Then he slowly picked to pieces the defense; explained how carefully Gilbert premeditated Miller's death; how he purchased the revolver, haggling over and lowering the price from $2.00 to $1.35, and then buying it.

The jury took the case at 12:42 o'clock.

Every one of the jurors bore marks of the long strain they had undergone. Since Monday morning they were together.

One of the jurors said following the disposal of the case that eight ballots had been taken.

"As soon as we went to the room," he said, "we began to talk over the case and then we took a vote to determine whether he was guilty of murder, manslaughter or should be acquitted. Every one voted in favor of murder and then we started to fix the degree. The first few ballots stood 9 for first degree and 3 for second. On another vote was 8 for first and 4 for second. It finally dwindled down to 11 for first degree and 1 for second, and then on the last vote the lone man changed in favor of first degree."

COLLEGE LEAGUES PLAN EXPANSION

Convention of Women's Leagues of Gettysburg College Looks for Great Expansion in Numbers and Work. Officers Elected.

Expansion in the number of organizations and in their membership, with a corresponding expansion in the scope of the work of the general organization made up the keynote of the work of the convention of the Women's League of Gettysburg College held in Broad Chapel on Thursday afternoon and evening and this morning.

Seven sub-leagues were represented, Chambersburg, Gettysburg, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Shippenburg and York—seven in all—while it is hoped that by the time of next year's meeting there will be at least thirty leagues organized and working. The new members of the central organization are expected to come principally from towns along the Main Line between Philadelphia and Pittsburg. Should this increase come, the work of the league would be correspondingly enlarged and the benefit to the institution all the greater.

The adoption of the constitution and by-laws was left in the hands of the executive committee for a report to be made at the 1912 meeting. It was decided to appropriate the funds raised during the past year towards the support of Rev. Herbert Rinard, the Y. M. C. A. secretary and registrar of the college.

Officers were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Stuckenberg, Gettysburg; vice presidents, Mrs. J. F. Hartman, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Hanson, Pittsburg; recording secretary, Mrs. George N. Lauffer, Newville; corresponding secretary Mrs. Charles F. Sanders, Gettysburg; treasurer, Mrs. McCreary, Indiana.

The following compose the executive committee, Mrs. J. W. Richard, Gettysburg; Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, Shippenburg; Mrs. W. A. Granville, Gettysburg; Mrs. Charles Weiser, York; Mrs. L. C. Bell, Miss Mary G. Sealing, York; Mrs. Mary E. Rue, Mrs. John F. Dapp, Mrs. G. S. Parker, Mrs. G. M. Widder, Harrisburg.

At Thursday evening's session Mrs. Hanson, of Pittsburg, discussed "The Aim of the College League." Mrs. J. W. Richard, of Gettysburg, "The Relation of the College League to the Board of Trustees," and Dr. W. A. Granville, "The Importance of the College League."

COBEAN—EICHINGER

A pretty wedding took place Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Eichinger in New Cumberland, when their daughter, Miss Catharine, was married to Dr. George C. Cobean, of Gettysburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. D. Rojahn, pastor of Trinity United Brethren church, in the presence of the immediate friends of the young couple.

The bride wore a traveling suit of blue shaded cloth with hat to match, and carried cream and white chrysanthemums. The bride was unattended. Miss Myrtle Eichinger, a sister, played the wedding march. The couple left shortly after the ceremony for a trip to Philadelphia and New York. They will be at home December 15th at their new residence on Chambersburg street. On account of the recent death of Dr. Cobean's mother the wedding was a quiet one.

WANT GETTYSBURG TRADE

According to an editorial in the Harrisburg Telegraph that city would like to get the trade from Gettysburg which now goes to Baltimore through the numerous excursions. The Capital City paper says:

"Commenting upon the Telegraph's call at the instance of the president of the Rotary Club and certain other commercial and philanthropic leaders in the city for a meeting of representatives of all commercial and civic bodies in Harrisburg and surrounding small towns, a prominent citizen of Gettysburg throws an interesting sidelight on this plan.

"Gettysburg, he remarks, is nearly twice as far from Baltimore as it is from Harrisburg, yet its people regard themselves as tributary to Baltimore. Four shoppers' excursions have been run from Gettysburg to Baltimore this year: none to Harrisburg. Whatever the Gettysburg citizen may require outside the stock in trade of a small town, he goes to Baltimore for. He has been doing it ever since Baltimore was a city and Harrisburg was not, and the habit is hard to break.

"If," says our friend from Gettysburg, "you were to offer us representation in such a unifying organization as was proposed in the Telegraph; if our Merchants' Association or our Citizens' Committee were to become an integral part of the Harrisburg united improvement association, or whatever the new organization may be called, I believe that the Gordian knot that has so long tied us—loyal Pennsylvanians that we are—to a city in Maryland would be cut."

"The Telegraph believes that this is sound logic, and it urges that those at whose request it has issued the call for a meeting in the auditorium of the Board of Trade Thursday evening, November 9, do some quick missionary work among the commercial bodies of such towns as Gettysburg, Carlisle, Chambersburg, Shippenburg—in short, all towns within a forty or fifty mile radius of the Capital—urging them to send representatives to the conference in order that they may find out for themselves whether the plan proposed is not as much for the benefit of the spokes in the wheel as it is for the benefit of the natural hub in that wheel."

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Sample Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying which is to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandfathers used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. People's Drug Store, Special Agent for Gettysburg.

THE AUDOBON SASSIETY.

They met to talk against the cats That kill the birds so sweet That warble in the cherry tree And all the day go "Tweet!"

"The cats must go!" yelled Mrs. Snow. Those women nodded hats All trimmed with pretty birdie wings That were a lovely bird grave yard Upon her false hair too.

"Yes, kill them all!" cried Mrs. Hall. "They kill the birds, they do!" They wore a lovely bird graveyard Upon her false hair too. And thus those Audobons, enraged, Were making cat for ty When Mrs. Snow glanced down below And there a mouse did spy.

"Help!" "Murder!" "Call the cat!" Those women—where were they? Some perched upon the chandelier; Some fainted dead away.

Then mummy cat came bounding in And nipped up mousey slick. She bore him to her kittens. They gobbled him down quick.

Those females came down off the perch, And each one voted aye— That rather than have horrid mice The pussy cats may stay.

Thank God that we men aren't birds With fancy tails and wings! These women slick would kill us quick For military things.

C. M. BARNITZ.

FEATHERS AND EGG SHELLS.

Hens that break a leg below the hock generally recover from the injury without splints, the bones knitting in five days. A splint made of leather or wood expedites the cure and keeps the leg from going crooked. When broken above the hock the injury seldom heals.

An author writes, "The hen turkey is a rather good mother." Well, rather! Is there a nature faker who has found a better than Mother Turkey whom God created to raise her own kind? That lousy, scabby legged cluck may eat the turkey incubator, but she is in reality the turkey undertaker.

Dig the sod and weeds away from your young fruit trees, for they rob them of tree food and moisture and cover worms, borers and bugs that spoil young orchards. Let the chickens scratch the fresh earth about the roots. They will thus cultivate the ground and gobble the crawlers also.

A gun handy for crows, hawks and hen roost robbers is a necessary adjunct to a poultry plant, but that spring gun set to shoot any one that enters the henhouse is surely a menace to the fancier, his friends and family. If you seek an occasion for lifelong regret or are bent on suicide then set the spring gun.

Your pullets at laying maturity ought not to have cost you a cent for feed. If you finish and dispose of your surplus cockerels at a good market. These cockerels ought to pay for all the feed they eat also. If you eat the roosters instead of selling them count that off your feed bill.

The style of chicken that fattens best are those of medium size, broad, blocky body, with short legs, wide apart. Put culms in the cook pot, not in the fattening crate.

Results of an experiment at Cornell university experiment station give advocates of exclusive dry mash for chicks something to think over. Here the wet mash rations were better liked than dry mash or cracked grain. A fine dry mash was difficult to eat in sufficient quantity. Chicks having dry mash made least gain in weight at greatest cost per pound. Chicks reared on wet mash were largest and plumpest. Wet mash flocks had less mortality than any other except that having the variety cracked grain and mash ration.

The board of pardons of Pennsylvania recently recommended a pardon for one of Philadelphia's rich commission merchants sent up for selling rotten eggs for food purposes. In this case the quality of mercy was surely strained—or rotten.

A cupful of salt dissolved in ten cupfuls of water furnishes an egg tester that registers the age of eggs. A fresh egg sinks to the bottom and lies flat. If one week old it floats half way to surface and two weeks' old it floats on top. If older, the smell will tell.

Ed. M. Barnitz.

Blood Meal Not Popular.

Few dairymen feed dried blood to their milk cows. Sensitive persons revolt against the idea of feeding blood meal. And yet it contains nearly twice as much protein as cottonseed meal or oil meal and is just about as effective as a milk producer.

It has been more customary to use blood meal as a hog feed than as a feed for cattle. It comes as a by-product from the packing house and when fed to hogs is mixed with corn. It has been shown by station tests that cottonseed meal is somewhat cheaper as a milk producer than blood meal.

TAFT THRILLED BY FLEET REVIEW

Inspects American Armada in New York Harbor.

VESSELS SAIL IN HIGH WIND

Most Spectacular and Imposing Naval Display in History of This Nation Comes to Glorious Close After Inspection.

New York, Nov. 3. — "It's a good navy, but we're wasting money if we don't have a better," said President Taft after he had reviewed from the bridge of the Mayflower the battle-ships and armored cruisers of the Atlantic fleet sweeping out to sea.

He passed this judgment after a rapid inspection of the most powerful fleet ever assembled under the Stars and Stripes.

It demonstrated clearly and impressively that this nation has justified its proud position as having a navy second to no power in the world, save only Great Britain.

In three long columns, stretching as far as the eye could see up the Hudson river, the grim, gray ships—ninety-nine in all—had awaited the president's coming. In his honor they were dressed from stern to stern in fluttering flags, as if attempting for this gala occasion to conceal the muzzles of their hundreds of death-dealing guns.

The gray hunting lent color to the scene, but the meaning of the dull gray hulls and the polished rifles that protruded from turret mouths could not be masked.

There were twenty-four battleships in the line, representing every type of that class of fighting vessel in the navy from the Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa, of Spanish war fame, down to the last word in completed dreadnoughts, the majestic Floridas, which lifted the voice of her guns in their first salute.

From the Indiana to the Florida it was a far cry, the big super-dreadnought with her high freeboard and five immense turrets looking as though she could "gobble up" the little veterans of the line in just one gulp.

Armored cruisers, scout cruisers, destroyers, torpedo boats, little submarines and auxiliaries made up the grand total.

Multitude Lines Shore.

New York, which has been "navy mad" for nearly a week, turned out by hundreds of thousands to witness the review from Riverside Drive, from the towering heights of the New Jersey Palisades and from the decks of excursion and pleasure craft, with which the unrestricted sections of the river were choked.

The significance of the mobilization and review of the fleet at this time was simply to demonstrate the preparedness of the American navy for any emergency. Further to impress the nation, to say nothing of the world at large, the naval authorities were not content with the usual plan of holding a review of the fleet at anchor.

This part of the program was gone through with, following the custom of the years, but in addition, after the Mayflower had steamed through the several columns, the fleet got under way and steamed out to sea, under the president's eyes. This double spectacle made the review unique in the annals of naval displays throughout the world and attracted to New York the military and naval attaches of most of the powers of Europe.

As the review was in progress the wind rose and it was in nearly a gale that the great fleet started away from New York.

The Connecticut weighed anchor and started down the Hudson, followed by the Michigan, North Dakota, Delaware, Louisiana and other war ships.

Because of the high wind and on account of the limited time at the president's disposal it was decided that the Mayflower should anchor off the foot of West Twenty-third street to witness the departure of the fleet for the open sea. The original plans were to have the president view the pageant from a point well down the bay.

Before the Connecticut, which headed the line in steaming by the Mayflower, had passed by the Narrows her decks were cleared for battling with a 2.1 m. at sea.

The review of the anchored fleet had required two hours, and the president, despite the cold wind which swept across the river and made his ladies shiver, remained on the bridge of the Mayflower for the greater part of this time. It was not until the yacht had headed down the river again that he consented to go into the cabin.

President Taft materially changed his travel plans to come to New York at this time to witness the pageant. He left later for Hot Springs, Va.

It was his first real view of the navy, the first time he has really seen that of which he is commander-in-chief, and the sight delighted and impressed him beyond measure.

MINISTER WROTE "FEAST OF BAAL" NOTES

Apologizes For Criticizing Hallowe'en Dance in Church.

Holidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 3.—A Hallowe'en entertainment given by the ladies of the Episcopal church at Holidaysburg, at which dancing was the principal diversion, has provoked the greatest sensation in church circles.

Prominent citizens received anonymous letters reflecting upon the proposed entertainment and styling it a "Feast of Baal."

Rev. George E. Boggs, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, turned over the letter received by him to the police authorities, and an investigation instituted by the postal inspectors is in progress.

Rev. R. Alan Russell, the Episcopal rector, said: "The feast of Baal" refers to the most loathsome immorality of ancient days, and the anonymous scribbler deserves condign punishment for criminal misuse of the United States mails."

The letters were traced to Dunsmuirville and Rev. Isaac Kridler, pastor of the Lutheran church of that town, confessed that he was the author, and that he had persuaded Miss Helen Keller, the assistant postmistress, to omit the postmark from the envelopes so as to conceal his identity. Rev. Mr. Kridler made public a written retraction and apology. The rector and vestrymen of the church attacked insist that other prominent people are implicated in the offense, as the investigation of the inspectors will develop.

"HEX" PUT SPELL ON HIM

Farmer Charges That Witch Killed Twelve Cattle.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 3.—Percival Nagle, until recently a prosperous farmer of Deturville, a village in the southern part of Schuylkill county, attributes a series of misfortunes to the influence of a witch, which, he says, cast an evil spell upon him and his property.

His case is similar to that exploited by Miss Mary Isabella Thomas, of the Tumbling Run Valley, who said the homestead was haunted and the family was under the spell of a big black "hex" cat. Deturville and vicinity are worked up to a high pitch of excitement over Nagle's charge.

He says his four horses have all died within a period of a few weeks and a half dozen veterinarians were unable to ascribe any cause of death. A neighboring farmer had a Reading "pow-wow" doctor give charms to counteract this witch's machinations. He visited the farm, walked around the cows a few times and returned reading with a fat fee.

Within the course of a few days eight cows died and now the agriculturalist has declared he is going gunning for the "pow-wow" artist.

SLAY 3000 IN TRIPOLI

Dispatch Says American and Austrian Consulates Were Endangered.

Frankfort, Germany, Nov. 3.—A dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Tripoli, under date of Oct. 31, says: "The American and Austrian consulates have been removed to the interior of the city because of the danger in their old locations."

"Turkish shells have fallen in the neighborhood of the German consulate. At least 3000 natives were executed by the Italians."

Adrift 31 Days in Rowboat: Rescued.

New York, Nov. 3.—A Spaniard employed on the Panama canal, who was blown out to sea while fishing in a small rowboat off Caracas, was brought into port by the British steamer Ikarion from Buenos Ayres. When picked up by the Ikarion on Oct. 27 the man had been thirty-one days adrift and was almost dead from exposure, hunger and thirst.

500 Miles on Horse in Nine Days.

Burlington, Cal., Nov. 3.—Percy Selby arrived at the Country club here after a hard horseback ride of 500 miles, covered in nine days. Selby rode to San Louis Obispo and back on a wager that he could accomplish the trip in less than ten days. He won the wager by more than twenty-four hours.

IMPERIAL TROOPS BURNING HANKOW

Women and Children Massacred in Fighting About City.

REVOLT'S END SEEMS NEAR

Leader of Chinese Rebels Agrees to Confer With New Premier to End Hostilities.

Pekin, Nov. 3.—The German legation received a wireless message from the vicinity of Hankow, stating that the imperial forces are now burning the native city of Hankow.

The message also confirmed the report to the Chinese war board that the imperial troops massacred men, women and children during several days' fighting.

Another message says that the revolutionists dynamited the arsenal at Han Yang to prevent its seizure by the imperialists.

It is evident that the Manchu soldiers are infuriated over earlier Chinese successes and that they have gotten beyond the control of their officers.

Troops Loot Villages.

Letters from a correspondent at Sin-Yang Chow, written some days ago, declared that General Yin Tchang's troops were beyond control. They are described as insubordinate and as having looted the villages north of Hankow.

General Yin Tchang, who has been relieved of his command at Hankow to become chief of the general staff, returned to Peking.

It is believed that General Yuan Shi Kai arrived at the imperialist headquarters at Shaokan too late to stop the massacres, which had already begun. It is thought that the effect of the atrocities committed by the government soldiers will have a serious bearing on the situation.

The foreigners at Hankow probably will be able to protect their concessions, as they have ten or twelve gunboats at their disposal, though some loss of life among the foreigners may be expected.

Another edict instructs the national assembly to "organize the Ta Ching empire's constitutional laws and submit them to us for consideration and issuance."

The pronouncement is the immediate result of the memorial to the throne telegraphed by the Army league at Lanchau, stating that the throne's edict of Oct. 30 made the soldiers glad unto tears, but the civil troubles can't be calmed until parliament has actually organized, and requesting the national assembly to set to work upon a draft of constitutional laws, as the soldiers desired to protect the throne and bring peace to the land.

ASKS SUSPENSION OF HOSTILITIES.

The throne ordered Yuan Shi Kai, the new premier, to return immediately to Peking, and simultaneously the national assembly in its official capacity telegraphed General Li Yuen Heng, leader of the revolutionists, requesting him to suspend hostilities pending the result of the endeavor to settle the differences of all parties.

From a semi-official source it was learned that a subordinate of Yuan Shi Kai has already conferred with General Li Yuen Heng. The latter expressed pleasure at the recent developments in Peking and agreed to meet Yuan Shi Kai for a discussion of the situation.

KYRLE BELLEW DIES

Dramatic Star, For Years a Matinee Idol, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 3.—Kyrle Bellew, one of the foremost actors of the English-speaking stage, author and explorer, died here of pneumonia.

Mr. Bellew became ill last Friday, but although a portion of his Salt Lake engagements were canceled, his condition was not considered serious until Wednesday.

The body will be taken to New York, accompanied by members of the "Mollusc" company, in which Mr. Bellew was playing. The funeral probably will be held in New York next Tuesday and will be private, in compliance with Mr. Bellew's wishes.

Gets 21-Year Term For Theft and Arson

Mount Holly, N. J., Nov. 3.—Joseph Thomas was sentenced to twenty-one years in state prison by Judge Horner, following his plea of guilty to two charges of horse stealing and one of arson. It is estimated that losses aggregating $50,000 in this section are due to acts of incendiarism by Thomas. The authorities hold his written confession of two similar crimes committed in Ocean county and to two in Monmouth county. It is likely that he will pass the rest of his life in jail.

Drank in Vapor of Burning Whisky.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 3.—An "inhalant" drunk is the latest thing in prohibition Georgia. When nearly a thousand gallons of blind tiger whisky, seized in raids, were burned at the garbage incinerating plant here, a large crowd of negroes gathered to the leeward and sniffed the vapor with intense relish. Many went away with swimming heads.

Do not object to their neighbors and friends hunting on their land or to any others who have due regard for their property, but all farmers do object to the hunter who tramples down grain, tears down fences and does other damage. The surest way to protect yourself is to placard your property. Cardboard trespass signs 5 cents each, 6 for 25 cents; muslin signs 10 cents each, 3 for 25 cents. And in order to keep undesirable hunters from coming out to your land and possibly disregarding such signs the best thing you could do would be to place your name in our trespass list. Fifty cents for entire season. See last page.

MRS. GODFREY WELL AGAIN

Vineland, N. J.—Mrs. Allen T. Godfrey who has been in bad health for some time, has just written the following letter telling of her recovery:

"Everyone who is in broken health ought to know that Vinol will build them up and make them strong. If I had been in a badly run down condition for several months, and I never fail to give Vinol a good word now."

This is one more proof that our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is free from cod liver oil, is a remarkably strengthening and vital medicine.

Men and women who are weak and in poor health, unable to sleep or eat well, and who have given up hope of ever being strong again should certainly take Vinol, without waiting another day, for it is exactly what they need.

There is no risk at all, for it is so sure to do good that we guarantee it absolutely and will refund the money if you are not satisfied. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

"OLD MEN" IN PUGILISM.

Term Used Often by Expert Confusing to Fight Fans.

"Many of the fighters now regarded as belonging to the past generation are comparatively young men. Take 'Philadelphia Jack' O'Brien, for instance. Some of the New York sporting writers described the pitiable efforts of 'old Jack' in the recent affair with Sam Langford, yet Jack is only thirty-three. Young Corbett, who was a bright and shining light of the Queensberry ring a few years ago, is but thirty-one, and Terry McGovern, who is also on the retired list apparently, is the same age. Tom Sharkey cried enough of the ring at twenty-nine. But Nelson, who is only twenty-nine at present, had to admit that he was no longer the Durable Dane when he went under to Ad Wolgast on Richmond field a year and a half ago. Abe Attell, who is just twenty-seven, is evidently of the opinion that he should not be asked to tackle the younger of his class unless he is well paid for taking the risk."

The writer of the above paragraph does not appear to understand that after an athlete, no matter in what line of effort, passes his thirtieth year the speed and vitality that have enabled him to win battles decrease very rapidly. In the case of Jack O'Brien, he is at thirty-three an "old man" athletically, although still young in comparison with human beings in the ordinary walks of life.

There has been only one exception to the rule—Fitzsimmons—but he was a freak. So far as McGovern and Young Corbett are concerned, their decadence was due not to age, but to injurious habits. Nelson succumbed to the series of terrific beatings he took during his busy career. He was severely punished almost every time he entered the ring, and that tells on a man.

Provided his injured arm thoroughly heals, Attell will be able to enter the ring and defeat any man in his class. As champion he will naturally insist on proper compensation.

Dropsy Treated Free

FRANKLIN MILES, M. D., LL. B., The Well-Known Heart and Dropsy Specialist, Will Send a New $3.75 Treatment Free.

Many "Hopeless" Cases Soon Cured After 5 to 15 Doctors Failed.

At first no disease is apparently more harmless than dropsy, a little swelling of the eyelids, hands, feet, ankles or abdomen. Finally there is great shortness of breath, smothering spells, sitting up to breathe, cough, faint spells, sometimes nausea and vomiting, even bursting of the limbs and a lingering and wretched death if the dropsy is not removed.

Dr. Miles has been known as a leading specialist in these diseases for 30 years. His liberal offer is certainly worthy of serious consideration. You may not have another opportunity.

The Grand Dropsy Treatment consists of four dropsy remedies in one, also Tonic Tablets and Pura-Laxa for removing the water. This treatment is specially prepared for each patient and is at least ten times as successful as that of most physicians. It usually relieves the first day, and removes swelling in six days in most cases. Delay is dangerous.

Mr. Alexander Milne, Spokane, Wash., cured by two months' treatment. Mrs. Sarah A. Boyd, Oswego, Ia., cured after giving up hope. Mrs. Elvina Sanders, Decatur, Neb., cured after 10 physicians failed. Mr. J. J. Nash, Piercing, Mo., cured. Limbs swollen up to the body. Mr. C. A. Killinger, Shipensburg, Pa., cured after four physicians failed to relieve. Mrs. Julia Bessie, Dodge, Minn., cured after being pronounced incurable by three physicians. Mr. John W. Alexander, Elwood, Ill., cured after 4 failed. Dr. Miles' book contains a large number of remarkable cures.

All afflicted readers may have the new Dropsy Book, Examination Chart, Opinion, Advice, and a $3.75 Treatment Free. Write at once. Describe your case. Address, Dr. Franklin Miles, Dept. D 565 to 575 Main Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

My Passport

By PETER RUDINE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Of all countries in the world that foreigners had better keep away from Russia is first. I happened when there some years ago to be a well known man among my own countrymen. I had represented my country at several foreign courts, and any member of any American embassy abroad would know me at the mention of my name.

After an interview with the American minister concerning certain matters of diplomacy with which I had been charged from Washington I went to my hotel, intending to leave the next day for Berlin, thence on to Paris, London and New York. I had left my passport to be vised, and it was to be sent me the next morning. It was brought me by a clerk in the American embassy, a young Russian who had lived in the United States and spoke and wrote English. When he handed it to me I noticed that he seemed to be studying my personal appearance. I glanced at the passport to see that it was all right, then, looking up at the young man, saw that he was still studying me.

"I seem to interest you," I said tartly.

"I beg your pardon, sir. When we deliver a passport we are responsible for its getting into the right hands."

With this he bowed and withdrew.

The next day I boarded a train at the station. As soon as I appeared a man in the uniform of a railroad official took me to a carriage and put me into a compartment. There were six seats in the compartment, one of them occupied by a gentleman and four by some friends who had evidently come to the train to see him off. I took the sixth seat. A moment before the train started the official who had put me into the carriage came to the door to shut it. Before he did so the friends got out, leaving the traveler alone with me in the compartment. As soon as we left the station and rolled into the light I noticed that my fellow passenger was the exact counterpart of myself. He was about my height, though a trifle shorter. In every other respect he might have been taken for me.

My looking at him so scrutinizingly appeared to irritate him, so I stopped it. We rode on together all the afternoon, and as we were approaching the border separating Russia from Germany the man pulled out a cigarette and began to puff lustily. Both windows were up, and I attempted to lower one of them. The man stopped me. I persisted, whereupon the man drew a revolver, leveled it at me and said something in Russian. Understanding this to mean that if I didn't let the window alone he would murder me, I desisted. Gradually I became overcome by the fumes of the cigarette and lost consciousness.

I was awakened from my slumber by a man shaking me. It required some time for him to arouse me, and when he did so I found that we had arrived at the station on the border where all passports are examined. I looked about for my fellow passenger, but he was not there. Not thoroughly myself, I seized my hand baggage and went into the apartment in the station where passengers are required to wait while their passports are being examined. Then I opened a satchel in which I carried my passport. It had vanished.

I now recalled the man that looked like me, and it occurred to me that he had robbed me of the document with the intention of passing out of Russia by it. I told my story to the officer in charge of passport examination, and he immediately issued an order to detain any one attempting to pass on a passport bearing my name. He was too late. One of his deputies reported that the passport had been used by a man for whom a sleigh was waiting; he had jumped into it and been driven away. When I was shown the official he threw up his hands, exclaiming:

"Great heavens! This is the man." In this instance I was saved from suspicion because my passport had been used, but there remained the question, "Was I in collusion with him?" I requested the officer in charge to telegraph an account of the case to the American minister to Russia, and he did so. But I was delayed several days in the little station before an order came to permit me to go through without a passport. Had it not been for my diplomatic connections heaven knows what would have become of me.

Several years after this I was sitting in my office in the state department at Washington when a man with a Russian name was announced. I ordered him admitted, and he said to me: "I owe you my life, sir, or more. Had it not been for my using your passport I would now be working in the mines of Siberia."

"Are you the man who drugged me with cigarette smoke?"

"I am. I was made up. The clerk in the embassy who took your passport did the work. The railway official who showed you to the compartment was one of our circle. And the friends seeing me off were also members, holding the seats that there should be no one else in the compartment."

"Why were you trying to leave Russia?"

"Let us not speak of that."

An article in a recent issue of this department which outlined the bond issue plan for raising funds for highway improvement in Jackson county, Ore., gave the amount raised in 1910 for road work as $950,042, instead of $95,042, while the valuation of property in the county was given as $5,000,000, when the amount should have been $50,000,000. As the figures appeared the amount raised for road work annually was 20 per cent of the total property valuation of the county, which is at a glance an absurd situation.

M. A. LINCOLN TROSTLE

M. A. LINCOLN TROSTLE, of Germany township, who is one of the Republican Nominees for Director of the Poor, is one of the most deserving candidates on the ticket. He is an extremely hard working man with a large family. He wishes to make a personal appeal through the columns of this paper to every voter in the county, as it is impossible to see a very large per cent of them personally, to recall that two years ago he was defeated for this same office by a very small margin, and now he will be very grateful for a good and substantial vote.

Remember, kind voter, when "Link" Trostle says he is grateful to you for your support, he means it, and will never change his regard for you if elected. Gentlemen, "Link" Trostle is one of the whitest men this county has, and a better and more congenial neighbor will not be found in a day's travel. As a compliment to his efficiency in office, and the confidence bestowed in him by those who know him, I refer you to his election to various local offices in "Old Mount Pleasant Township," the stronghold of Democracy. He has always carefully attended to all public business entrusted to his care, and we feel assured that M. A. Lincoln Trostle will be a safe and qualified representative on the Board of Poor Directors.

REMEMBER HIM ON NOVEMBER THE 7TH.
